DODGE CITY COMMUNITY COLLEGE

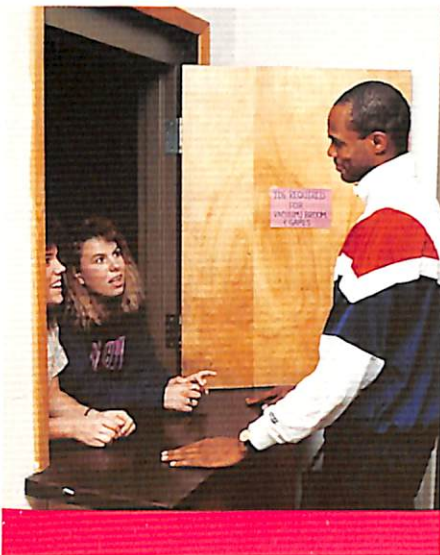

Living on campus has many advantages...

- Close Friendships
- Structured Extracurricular Activities
- Easier Access to Classes, Labs and Library
- No Need to Hassle with a Car
- All You Can Eat Meals with Lots of Choices
- Study Rooms with Professional and Peer Tutors
- Free Telephones and Refrigerators in Rooms
- Competitive Prices
- Central Air and Heat
- Close Friendships

Yes, we put close friendships on the list twice. That's because the friends you develop through campus housing will make your college experience one you will always remember. Whether it's dining in our buffet-style cafeteria, playing games, or studying with your friends, we're sure you'll find on-campus residence life an enjoyable and rewarding experience.

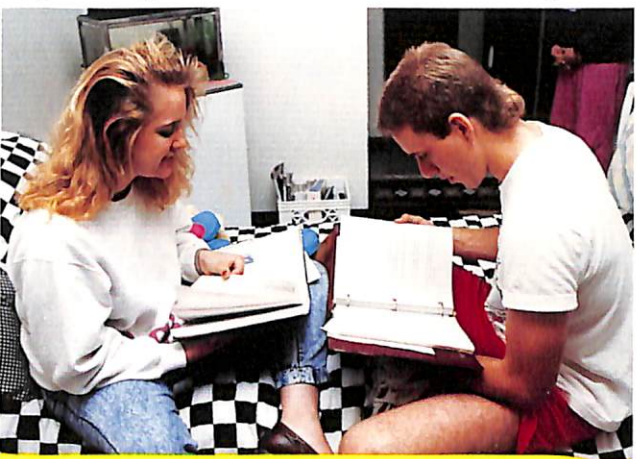

Campus Security and Assistance

While students are responsible for making decisions affecting their own safety, Dodge City Community College also promotes student safety through the provision of an on-campus security force.

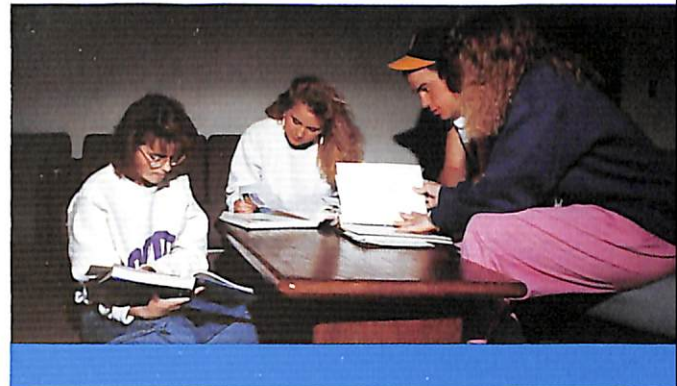

Housing Options

With five residence halls, Dodge City Community College offers one of the largest on-campus community college housing programs in the state. Coleman-Webb Hall and Shelden Hall are traditional style residence halls with bathrooms shared by two rooms. Large lounge areas offer convenient space for studying, watching television, or visiting. Russell-Revitte Hall and Gleckler-Zollars Hall each offer apartment-type living with three bedrooms, a living room, and bathroom. "All you can eat" buffet style meals are offered in the student union. Sites-Franklin Hall consists of eight two-bedroom apartments complete with kitchens.

In addition, for every 25 to 30 residents, the college employs a Resident Assistant (R.A.). R.A.s are experienced residents who have been carefully selected and trained to be of assistance to students. R.A.s provide a strong link between the residents, campus security, and the administration of the college.
